

FeedbackAnalysis:

The feedback is an essential part of college teaching- learning and other co-curricular cum extra-curricular activities. The feedback is obtained from students, other stakeholders such as teachers etc. The feedback received is tabulated and analyzed by IQAC to find where course correction and improvement is needed. The feedback is obtained from students on a structured feedback performa consisting of different parameters relevant for the quality enhancement in college activities, facilities and infrastructure. The students are also motivated to suggest improvement in curriculum delivery, internal assessment process, evaluation system and organization of co-curricular as well as extra- curricular activities. The feedback is also analyzed and discussed with the college council for taking necessary steps to enhance quality education in college. Round the year, staff meetings are held for getting opinions of teachers for the improvement of college functioning in education and other fields. A comprehensive feedback mechanism involved with different stakeholders and students is helpful to provide important suggestions for setting new quality benchmarks and thereby to improve the college functioning in concurrence with present societal requirements.
